

1 (D/F) NOT ATTENTIVE: NO EYE CONTACT OR EFFORT - these are not creators at all of anything. They suck air out of the room. They do poorly on tests. They give nothing to the story. Their chances of failing the course are high.

*One might object that that is just the way some kids are, and are that way through no fault of their own. Fine, but my job, the main clause of my school's mission statement in fact, includes how my job, my mission, is to "build productive citizens" ready for work in the 21st century workplace. I take that seriously. So if I let those same kids' stonefaced behavior or blurting go, thus not aligning my assessment with the national standards, I am not properly doing my job for my employer and I should be fired.
